

Find Your Better Yard

Let's face it...your yard may no longer be pulling its weight.

Maybe it needs to catch up with your new interests, family structure or other changes. Now is a great time to find the landscape that works for you, your family and the planet.

For inspiration, we're offering a free WaterSense guide to help your yard meet its full potential. "Find Your Better Yard" can make your yard look better, function better, and become more water efficient. It's packed with ideas, illustrations, descriptions and links to get you started.

Best of all, it's easy to get – just head for aquarionwater.com/betteryard.

Did You Know?

Calculating minds want to know! Find out just how much water your household can save with our new, interactive water conservation calculator at aquarionwater.com/calculator.

Help Pick Our State's Environmental Champions

Winners can then name a favorite environmental non-profit to receive a $5,000 grant from Aquarion. Students are eligible for an award, too, and they can win $1,000 for their efforts.

But first we're counting on you to nominate candidates in four categories — Adult, Non-Profit, Business and Student. And feel free to nominate yourself or your own organization. When it comes to "Stewards of the Environment," we don't want any unsung heroes.

Nomination period closes on May 12. We'll name our 2023 Environmental Champions on June 20 at a special awards event. For more details or to submit a nomination, head for aquarionwater.com/awards.

It's that time of year when we ask you to do a good deed for our state's environment — simply by letting us know about a person, organization or company doing a great job helping to protect or improve Connecticut's environment.

For the 10th year, the Aquarion Environmental Champion Awards will honor outstanding, voluntary work benefiting our state's natural resources.

Time to Get 35% Savings on Upcycled Rain Barrels

Aquarion is again offering you the chance to buy discounted rain barrels to catch and store otherwise wasted run-off water. These lightweight but rugged barrels fill from your downspouts and can hold 60 gallons of water for your garden and other plantings. A brass spigot and hose connection make watering easy, and a screen keeps leaves and bugs out.

Normally $125, Aquarion customers can get rain barrels for $80 each. You just need to reserve your barrel by May 1 for easy pickup.

Supplies are limited, get all the details and ordering information now at aquarionwater.com/rainbarrels.
